

Global Vehicle Sales

The number of vehicles sold is increasing globally. This increase is mostly happening in the Asian region. In 2009, China becomes the country with highest vehicle sales passing USA. China is responsible for the increased vehicle sales. African region shares a smaller share of vehicle sales and remains the same. (Click the slider to see yearly change.)